

Update Aadhaar at banks soon: UIDAI

New Delhi: The UIDAI will soon evolve a process for authorised employees of banks, post offices and the government to biometrically sign off Aadhaar enrolment and updation form collection, as the process of applying for Aadhaar moves into such premises. The move is aimed at addressing the security concerns around collection of biometric and other information, UIDAI CEO Ajay Pandey told PTI. It had earlier asked states to ensure that enrolments, even those by agencies, shift to government or municipal premises from external private operator run sites. Moreover, it has directed banks to set up enrolment facility in at least one out of 10 branches.
