31	Jayams Information Services Pvt. Ltd	I would appreciate if we are given to understand the 'Payout Structure' per Biometric Registration and the 'Payout Schedule'.	UIDAI reimburses to the Registrar Rs. 50/- for every successful Aadhaar Number generated and the Registrar in turn release the funds to the EA on the basis of the terms of agreement in the contract. The reimbursement is based on the monthly report from CIDR regarding the successful generation.

In case a Registrar is not able to issue a letter because of any administrative or any other reason to the EA then they should inform UIDAI and the concerned EA in writing clearly specifying that by what time they will be able to issue such letter and UIDAI should accordingly provide adequate grace period to the EAs for submission of such certificate for empanelment.

and UID generated is 501,305. We have completed enrolments of nearly 30 lacs but UID generated is nearly about 5 lacs which is entirely dependent on CIDR /UIDAI. As per current information available on portal only one agency has completed generation of 10 lacs UID. Hence it may not appropriate to put a cap of 10 lac UID generation for T3 category. Either this cap should be brought down to 5 lacs UID generation or a minimum of 15 lacs enrolment should be made as eligibility criteria.

3.ii It is also suggested that UIDAI tech center should issue a certificate to each EA / Registrar specifying that how many number of Operator and supervisor are active for that EA and how many UID have been generated (Registrar Wise) and how many packets have been submitted to CIDR (Registrar wise). Since UIDAI is requesting for re-empanelment, hence it is felt that the data provided by tech center / CIDR will be the most authentic form for an EA to submit its claim against the eligiblity criteria and to avoid any kind of misrepresentation or conflict of figures while submitting
